Dear Saeme Kim,
I have attached our revised manuscript, taking into account the Evaluator’s comments, along with the information relating to the authors: biographical details, bank account details, etc.

I was not sure where to write this, but in response to Evaluation 1, my colleagues and myself felt that our article has more of an empirical focus, rather than a theoretical one. As such, we are reluctant to include a theoretical component to the manuscript. However, we have taken into account the feedback offered by all three Evaluators, and incorporated their comments and concerns into our manuscript.

If there are more changes needed, please do not hesitate to inform us.

Sincerely,
Er-Win Tan
