Oct 14 2013 07:15:04:094PM

RE: PIDJ 213-779R1
Title: Neonatal herpes simplex virus type-1 central nervous system disease with acute retinal necrosis

Dear Associate Professor Dr Fong,

Your manuscript has been found acceptable for publication (after minor corrections made by the Chief Editors) and will be forwarded to the publisher.

Your paper is tentatively scheduled to appear in the APRIL 2014 issue of The Pediatric Infectious Disease Journal. (This date is subject to change without notice).

OPEN ACCESS
If you have indicated in the revision stage that you would like your submission, upon acceptance to be made open access, please go directly to step 2. If you have not yet indicated that you would like your accepted article to be open access, please follow these steps to complete the process:
1. Email the journal office claiming you would like this article to be available open access. Please send your Email to PIDJOURNAL@yahoo.com. Please include your article title and manuscript number.
2. A License to Publish (LTP) form must be completed for your submission to be made available open access. Please download and sign the form here http://links.lww.com/LWW-ES/A49 and Email the completed form to the journal office.
3. Go to http://wolterskluwer.qconnect.com to pay for open access. You will be asked for the following information, please enter exactly as shown:
a. Article Title - Neonatal herpes simplex virus type-1 central nervous system disease with acute retinal necrosis
b. Manuscript Number - PIDJ 213-779R1

Page proofs for print articles should arrive, via e-mail, from Lippincott Williams & Wilkins, in approximately four to six weeks.

Your paper has been nominated for Publish-Ahead-of-Print (PAP) on our website (http://journals.lww.com/pidj/toc/publishahead). Once page proofs are ready, they will be sent to you instead of waiting 6 weeks prior to publication as regularly done for printed manuscripts. After you return the proofs and queries, the manuscript will be placed in a prioritized list for PAP.

We are pleased to have your paper in the journal.

Yours truly,

THE CHIEF EDITORS
The Pediatric Infectious Disease Journal

JDN/GHMc:asn