Bangsawan: Creative Patterns in Production
Mohd. Effendi Samuddin, Rahmah Bujang

Abstract

Bangsawan, an operatic form, is a living theatre in Malaysia. This article examines its structure and creative processes, associates it with social issues and acceptance by a multiethnic audience, and relates the history of the genre.

Bangsawan: Creative Patterns in Production
Mohd. Effendi Samuddin and Rahmah Bujang

Bangsawan, an operatic form, is a living theatre in Malaysia. This article examines its structure and creative processes, associates it with social issues and acceptance by a multiethnic audience, and relates the history of the genre.