Dear Dr. Yip:

Your manuscript entitled "Breast cancer outcomes as defined by the estrogen receptor, progesterone receptor and human growth factor receptor -2 in a multi-ethnic Asian country" has been accepted in its current form for publication in the World Journal of Surgery contingent upon a Crosscheck scan. After acceptance, all WJS material is put through a computer search comparing the new material with all previously published scientific work. We will contact you if any significant "overlap" is demonstrated.

Thank you for your fine contribution. On behalf of the Editors of the World Journal of Surgery, we look forward to your continued contributions to the Journal.

With kindest regards,
Dr. John Hunter
Editor-in-Chief, World Journal of Surgery
